Financial Advocacy Resources (Credit Access Business Program)

- The Credit Access Business (CAB) Ordinance places restrictions on loans to minimize predatory lending practices and to reduce amount of fees and interest paid by borrowers
- TARA charged with development and implementation of program to monitor and enforce compliance with 1 FTE
- Registration and enforcement began May 1, 2012 – Texas Office of Credit Commissioner CAB Licensing began on January 1, 2012
- Currently approximately 104 CAB businesses in Austin
- TARA provides public information and coordinates outreach efforts to inform consumers and CAB's about the requirements of the ordinance

Efforts to Improve Enforcement

- Reduce notification time to City of any material change in business operations from 45 to 10 days
- Establish a process for registration revocation and appeal
- Establish clear requirements that CABs provide lending transaction reports filed with the Texas Consumer Credit Commissioner in a format prescribed by the City
- Improve loan information that CABs provide borrowers
- Clarify that each loan obligation is fully repaid in no more than four installments
- Require the posting of consumer credit counseling info
- Staff will bring proposed Code amendments to Council in November/December

Efforts to Improve Enforcement

Administrative Rulemaking currently underway to:

- Establish income verification standards on loans – require use of current income documents
- Require borrower’s rights poster and the contents of the poster to be displayed – accompanies the proposed code amendment
- Clarify reporting requirements in current ordinance - accompanies the proposed code amendment
- Adoption of rules at the end of 2015

Additional FTE – Regulatory Monitor funded for 9 months
